Prospects Still For Lower Prices

(Searle Grain Report)

We are convinced that much imported wheat continues to be milled and consumed in our country and on the Continent; also there is good reason to think that the prevailing cheapness is encouraging a larger use of wheat bread in the Orient, India and other non-European countries. But the consumption is not abnormally large, and the market really needs a very big demand, based on actual consumption, to take care of all the wheat now landed at the chief importing places and the fresh supplies that will be offered and shipped by Argentina and Australia, in competition with Canada in the coming months.

The sentiment of the market is very bearish and sometimes it seems that everyone is inclined to look for appreciably lower prices than those now current.

But, of course, we are bound to think that the present level is very low, and low values can be used as an argument for steady markets in the near future. Such prices as we are quoting daily can give no encouragement to growers and holders to part with their wheat, but they should encourage buyers to lay in good supplies.

So far Russia has shipped fully up to expectations and recently has been chartering for January shipment. Within about two months, i.e., at the beginning of March, we expect that Russian wheat will again be much in evidence for shipment in the spring season. We believe that towards the end of February offers will be put forward freely, and liberal shipments will be made in the spring months.—Broomhalls.

K. R. McLean, R.O., of McLean & Anderson, Sight Specialist 208-8th Ave West, Calgary will make his monthly visit to Champion Friday, January 30, at the Drug Store.

Local Bonspiel Event of Week

The local bonspiel opened on Monday at 2 p.m., with twenty-two rinks taking part, and while the number of curlers was smaller this year than in the past, the usual enthusiasm prevailed. Mild weather and dust storms interfered somewhat with the quality of the ice, but play was continued without interruption until Tuesday afternoon when the five o'clock draw was omitted and play was not resumed until 8 p.m. In the early stages some close contests resulted, where the winner was not evident until the last end was played, and a considerable number of spectators were on hand to watch the play. The heavier ice on Tuesday made the game rather less interesting, although many enjoyed watching the action and the play.

Science Triumphs Over Weight

The High school boys again "proved their wares" as a hockey team when they defeated the senior team on the local ice on Jan. 16th to the tune of 4-3. At full time the score was deadlocked at 3-3 so two periods of overtime were played. On a pass from Bobbie McCullough Philip Butin scored the deciding goal after about five minutes overtime. They held the town boys out for another five minutes and left the ice with a well earned victory. The outstanding player was Harry Taylor in goal, who was stopping shots from all angles. Credit goes, however, to all the boys, as they played good hockey. The high school boys hope to meet a outside team on the ice some time next week to watch for the date and turn out to give the boys a boost by your presence at the game.

LINEUP

High School—Goal, H. Taylor; defence, P. Butin, E. Harper; forwards, A. Latiff, B. McCullough, D. Campbell. Town—Goal, F. Watts; defence, W. Adams, J. Taylor; forwards, O. McEunster, S. Anderson, A. Anderson; Subs, Sandy Watt, W. Anderson, Kelly McLean.

Public School Wins At Brant

On Saturday the public school hockey team was driven to Brant by Chal, Matlock, where they defeated the Brant boys by a score of 4-0. After the game the Champion team was banqueted at the home of Mrs. H. France, and returned home highly pleased with the outing and looking forward to a return match on home ice in the near future. The players were: Goal, K. McCullough; defence, E. Harper and A. Latiff; forwards, G. Berger, Pat Doyle and G. Hargrave; Sub, Richard Latiff.

Major Strange To Speak Here

It is to be hoped that a general effort will be made to attend the meeting to be addressed by Major H. G. L. Strange on Feb. 11th. The speaker in this instance is an experienced farmer and his conclusions in regard to existing conditions will carry more weight in consequence. While, naturally, his ideas may not be entirely acceptable to everyone, consideration of present problems with all the evidence available should be especially interesting. By all means make it a point to hear Major Strange.

Mrs. Fred. Smith Loses Brother

This community was shocked Wednesday morning to learn of the sudden death of Zebulon "Zebby" Jacobs Jr., 17 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Jacobs. This popular young man succumbed after ten days' illness to pneumonia and complications. He was a native son of Cardston and one of the best known and esteemed students on the Cardston high school campus.—Lethbridge Herald.

Deceased was a brother of Mrs. Fred Smith of Champion.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The use of fertilizers in sowing wheat is being advocated as a means of reducing costs by securing larger yields. With figures lacking as to the cost of the fertilizers and their application it is impossible to estimate just what their use would likely accomplish, but when we already have too much wheat without fertilizers it is hard to work up much enthusiasm about them. The fact that they cost money is the hardest part of it, and money this year is conspicuous by its absence.

Major H. G. L. Strange, who will speak in the Community Hall here on Wednesday Feb. 11th has been making a very favorable impression on audiences where he has appeared. He is optimistic in his predictions for the future and his reasons for his belief are decidedly impressive. While the U.F.A. have the honor of arranging for Major Strange's visit here, everyone will make an effort to assure the very best turnout possible for the occasion.

An application to pipe natural gas from the Kinsella field for use in Saskatchewan cities is meeting with opposition from various sources. The coal miners want to sell coal to Saskatchewan, while those interested in Turner Valley want the waste gas from the wells there used before any other privileges are granted for pipe lines. Everyone is anxious to see the gas and oil areas in Alberta developed and any ruling which would curtail the use of these fields after the wells are producing does not seem to accord very well with this idea. Why not stop the export of coal on the ground that the Alberta supply might some day be exhausted.

Maclean's magazine has collected the opinions of many noted financiers and executives in regard to the existing depression and its solution. While one and all are assured of Canada's recovery in a short space of time the means by which it is to be brought about does not by any means seem to inspire anything like unanimity among the Daniels brought to judgment. The same situation is developed everywhere this matter comes under discussion. There are thousands of methods advanced as to how we may better existing conditions, some of them so grotesque as to be laughable of the theme under discussion was less important, and it is this conglomeration of assertions and advice which must finally bring to the student the conclusion that the authorities making themselves heard are evasive or know very little in regard to what they are talking about—at least they disagree so widely that it is impossible to make sense of the ensemble—naturally leading to the assumption that a great majority of them are wrong in conclusions. This brings matters right back to the individual who must make decisions in his own behalf as to how he will meet the conditions at present and in the near future. Optimism is a fine thing but the man with a touch of pessimism is much more likely to come out right side up than the one who refuses to see things as they are.

While wholesale prices are still very high as compared to produce there has been a steady increase in the value of a dollar to the retail purchaser and if this process continues, which it must if goods are to be disposed of, trade will become more nearly normal.

There was a time when Alberta was considered by the rest of the Dominion to be almost in the socialist class. Now Saskatchewan could give cards, spades and little casino, and then win the game when it comes to socialistic ideas. In fact it would appear a bunch of Bolsheviks had got loose in Alberta's sister province.

Australia fixed the Advance price of wheat to the farmers at 75c per bushel, but the bank declined to pay the former any more than the wheat would bring at export markets. Consequently wheat trading is proceeding in the ordinary manner irrespective of the advances act, and the government has given up the hope of assisting the farmers.

Suggests Mash For Laying Chickens

Some of the findings in experimental feeding at the Scott, Sask., station are as follows:—An average of three bushels each covering six winter months, showed a thirty per cent greater return from using a home-made laying mash as compared with the use of a well known commercial mash. This home-made laying mash consisted of equal parts by weight of oat chop, shorts, bran, barley chop, and beef scrap with 11 pounds of fine salt and 123 pounds of charcoal. Scratch grain and sprouted oats were fed in addition. Another test showed an equal weight chop suitable to replace the bran and shorts in the above mentioned mash. A two year test gave fish meal a slight preference over beef scrap as a protein supplement. In another experiment hulls oats were slightly superior to common oats in the mash and scratch grain. Artificial heat in the laying house in winter did not give satisfactory results under the conditions of a three year test at the Scott Station.

TRY A "WANT" ADVERTISEMENT

In Times of Business Depression Advertising Is Doubly Important

Not only are retailers from outside points flooding the district with advertisements of bargains in practically every line of merchandise, but the "stand pat" attitude, which never indicates an effort to meet present conditions, lends weight to foreign appeals for business. The Chronicle reaches practically every home in the Champion district, and has many readers in adjacent territory. ## after meals

GET RID of your dread of pain after eating. Eat without fear of "indigestion," sour stomach, disagreeable gas or headache.

When your food ferments, "dis-agrees," lies like a lump in your stomach, it's a sign of too much eating. You need not resort to crude methods—take instead an anti-acid which will correct the condition. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

A spoonful of this pleasant-tasting, soothing fluid neutralizes many times its volume in acid. It restores the proper alkaline balance to an acid-stomach and bowels—assists their organs to function as they should.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is what you need when a bad breath, "stated tongue," headaches, nausea or biliousness indicates an over-acid condition. Take a spoonful today and for several days and see how it sweetens the system. You won't be nearly so liable to colds or sickness. All druggists in the Dominion sell it in 50c bottles. The genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle.

ings," announced the housekeeper, who had answered the ring.

Instantly Gay's heart pounded. Suppose something had happened to Nick? But it was Nick's own voice that reassured her a moment later.

"That you, Gay? How's everything?"

"All right. You frightened me, Nick. What's happened?"

He laughed back over the wire, sounding so dearly familiar that he seemed very near.

"Nothing—that is—Gay, would you think it terrible if I didn't come and take my usual good-bye walk with you?"

His voice was hollow. Perhaps Nick noticed for he said: "Don't sound so mournful! Of course I want to go, but Mrs. Halliday has asked a favor, and I hate to refuse. Her husband has been called away by the death of his mother, and she's expecting friends for Sunday. She's planned to take them to Mason's Falls. They've got a new car, you know, and for some reason she doesn't want to drive it, so she asked me to go."

There followed the least little stammer, then Nick said: "What do you think, dear? I don't exactly like to refuse. I'm sure to die of it."

"You know best, Nick. Well, I hear you, of course; but if you feel you must—"

"Anxiety sort of do feel that way, and next week you'll be coming home. Look here—you understand, Gay, don't you?"

He laughed, and kissed her. "I wouldn't change a hair of your head, my dear."

"Really, Nick?"

Her voice sounded so sober that he said: "Why should you ask? Haven't I been a model husband? Come, Gay, let's not get serious. Let's forget every trouble we ever had, and be kids again. If we start now here at home, it will be half an hour to the Bird's Nest, and get back in time to kiss the boys good-night."

It was two weeks after this, one Friday evening when Gay and Simon were sitting together on the porch, that they were interrupted by a call to the telephone.

"It's a long distance for Mrs. Hall-either; yet I can't lay a finger on her, except her silly talk about children spoiling her career. I don't see that she has much of a career anyway, though she does sing divinely, and paints, too. Nick says I'm upset to her. Perhaps I am. I'll admit that to see her ordering a man to weed those flower beds she makes such a fuss about, sometimes enrages me. She looks so real. Nick spoke of it one day, and I just knew he was wishing I looked the same, though he didn't say so."

"Good night, dear. I wouldn't call you so slovenly either."

"Well," Gay answered, with a rueful laugh, "I feel like one when I look at Mrs. Halliday! It's hard to keep up with everything when you have two babies as young as mine. I know some of my clothes are behind the times; but they're not worth sending to a dressmaker, and I'm too tired to sew myself. But—but I hate to have my husband think me—"

"Shucks! said the old man gently. "He don't think no such thing."

"He wouldn't have thought so if he hadn't been for Mrs. Halliday," said Gay. "She's not a product of Baker's, and she's different from the few women people who come to us. I just can't understand the Hallidays choosing such a place. They don't sit in—never will, I am sure. I suppose they'll just meet us a bit and go away—when she tires of her garden."

"The sooner the better," growled Simon below his white mustache, cheerfully. "Now, dearie, don't you go to gettin' worried about yer looks. I bet if you was to ask Nick outright he'd say you'd got Mrs. Halliday beat to a frazzle."

He roared quietly for a while. Save for the frogs down by the mill pond, the night was quite still, until, suddenly, a whip-poor-will raised its voice.

"First I've heard this year," said Simon quietly, then, "Dearly, if I was to make you a little present—say a hundred dollars I got clutterin' up my desk, couldn't you say some of them silly notions like Mrs. Halliday's, without the bother of goin' to a dressmaker? Seems like I see catalogues of most everything under heaven, from this new-fangled undergar they call undies, to party dresses that ain't got no backs. Not that I'm advisin' you to dress that—well, the night you can't be young only once, Gay, and I wouldn't want to think you was goin' without things you hanker for—his wife I don't know what to do with my spare cash."

For a minute Gay did not speak, then she said impulsively, and setting herself upon the old man's knee, kissed his cheek.

"Thank Sim—you're the most understanding person in the world. My first thought, after gratitude to you, was that I mustn't take a gift like that from anybody, but I know it will make you happy to give happiness to me. I don't say I'll spend it all on clothes; but I'll freshen up a bit, and get some things the children need."

History Lecturer—"Can any of you tell me what makes the Tower of Pisa lean?"

Curious Lady: "I don't know, or I'd take some myself."

Italy expects a downward revision of agricultural wage scales.

But she didn't move for a minute. She sat there by the telephone, her head pounding too rapidly. "Why on earth should I mind so much?" she asked herself. "It's ridiculous—childish. It's not right to get dependent on one human being for all your happiness, even if he's your husband. If I let that feeling grow on me I'll be come a jailer. Of course Nick couldn't refuse to go with Mrs. Halliday. This is the third time he's dined there; and we'll go home on Wednesday anyway. I ought to be ashamed to mind at all."

She drew a deep breath and went back to the piazza. It was dark, and Simon couldn't see her face.

"What's up?" he questioned.

"Nothing, except that Nick can't come tomorrow."

She tried to speak cheerfully, but her mood was not lost on the old man.

"Ain't sick, is he?" he questioned.

"No; but our new neighbor has asked a favor he couldn't very well refuse. She has some visitors, and wants him to drive them to Mason's Falls on Sunday."

"Hain't your special husband o' hers drive a car?"

"She usually drives herself, but she wants a chauffeur for this special trip. Her husband's mother has just died and he's away."

"M—n," growled Simon. "So what he attends the funeral, she goes gallivantin' with her friends? Somehow, Gay, I don't always take to that neighbor of yours."

A breath of relief escaped Gay's lips.

"It does me good to hear you say so, Uncle Sim. I don't take to her,

VICKS VAPORUB
FOR COLDS OF ALL THE FAMILY

Linking Up "Canada's Main Street"

By William Childs, Executive Secretary of Eastern Manitoba Development Bureau and General Secretary of Manitoba-Ontario-Canada Highway Association

Great hopes will be realized when Manitoba and Ontario are officially linked up with the National Highway in the fall of this year. Much energy and hard work has been gone through by the Manitoba Motor League, Municipalities, Service Clubs, Good Roads Organizations and prominent men of both Western Ontario and Eastern Manitoba, since the year 1918, when first our people went westward demanding a highway route between the head of the Great Lakes and the City of Winnipeg.

The day of the official opening of the highway between Kesteven and Winnipeg has not yet been set, but it may safely be said that it will be in the early part of next September, probably Labor Day, in order to give the motor tourist and owner a chance to come down to the Ontario border and take up the highway to the west.

The Eastern Manitoba Development Bureau, sponsors of the movement for an official ceremony and picnic, have also called upon the Manitoba Motor League through its live wire Secretary A. C. Emmett, to assist in laying out plans for the monster event. W. J. Graves, vice-president of the Manitoba Motor League, has also thrown in his lot with the movement. Mr. J. W. Graves, representing the St. Boniface Kiwanis, and St. Boniface Board of Trade, willingly allowed their names to go on the roster as members of the Public Relations Committee.

Messrs W. J. Graves, president of the Manitoba Motor League, and C. Emmett, with the secretary, are authorized to proceed to Western Ontario points to interview the heads of different organizations who it is anticipated will be extending their support in this epoch making event to be celebrated next fall.

Assurances have been received from both the Ontario and Manitoba Governments that the road will be open to the westward and that they will give their hearty co-operation to the movement.

Hiking Around World

Jugo-Slavian Youth Started From Washington Last September

Arriving at Halifax in the course of a projected journey around the world, mostly by foot, that began at Washington in September, Joseph Skulick, slim young Jugo-Slavian, left to get a ship for Newfoundland, where he plans to sail for England. At an average rate of 30 miles a day, Skulick had hiked 2,511 miles when he reached Halifax. He hopes to complete the globe-circling tour at Washington in something less than four years. The total mileage of his planned trip is 23,100. With a command of eight languages, Skulick anticipates less difficulty in European and other countries than would otherwise be the case.

Its Main Use

At a meeting of a rural district council a deputation of farmers asked to be received. They wished to complain about the state of a main road just outside the village. They found, however, that their arguments were not received very favorably.

At last the chairman managed to get a word in.

"Look here," he said, "the road is fairly good as a whole."

"Yes," replied the spokesman of the party, "but we want to use it as a road."

Sight-Sound Dramatic Production Broadcast

Actors In Studio At Chicago Mate Television History

Side-stripping minister looking equipment, a small audience squeezed in between humming machinery in the control room of station WOKAP and watched from behind the scenes what is believed to have been the world premier broadcast of a synchronized sight-sound dramatic production.

Irene Wicker, Vinton Haworth and Douglas Hays, made television history in their appearance in "The Maker of Dreams."

The play went on the air to be received by those with a television and radio combination set, the effect being a close relative to a small talkie, but not without many flaws as yet. But the experts said "Give science time."

Everything possible was done to outlast noise because the creak of shoe-leather would have given the impression of artillery in action; the men played in stockinged feet. The girls wore soft sandals.

They will show me the path of life; In Thy presence is fulness of life. I need Thy presence every passing hour; What but Thy grace can fill the emptiness of my heart; Who like Thyself my guide and stay

Through cloud and sunshine, oh, abide me. Thou remember the old story of how Michael Angelo was ever on his forehead, fastened in his artist's cap, a lighted candle, which always shone brightly on his work, and kept his shadow from falling on it. If I could always have such the light of Christ's face presence over me, I would always have my path, keeping the shadow of self behind and out of sight, ah, what an easy climb it would be then—in the mist.

"We walked on the shore of Langesness Island, off North Finmark, it was learned here recently. Those who examined the bottle are convinced of its genuineness. It has been forwarded to the Cunard Line office in London, England.

Thought Converted Into Electric Energy

Invention Of German Professor Something Entirely New

A machine which is said to register thought by curves has been invented by Professor Hans Berger, of the University of Jena, Germany. The invention converts thought into electric energy, which is registered on a chart. The "thought chart" looks like a weather or earthquake chart. Deep thinking shows violent up and down, shallow thinking merely a zig-zag line. So far, nobody has been able to read the thoughts themselves, and further research will be made to discover whether an interpretation of the curve is possible.

British picture shows are visited by something like 30,000,000 people every week.

This sensible way

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clear out the impurities in your blood by keeping your bowels soft and thus set in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd almost forgotten had existed—until you get the needed exercise.

As a result instead of playing yourself in an easy chair every five moments and letting baby fat accumulate you get an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and need to do to keep you in good condition.

Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date, to-morrow morning and every morning—be careful of the foods you eat to regular moderate exercise—then watch the pounds slide off.

Little Helps For This Week

"Thou wilt show me the path of life; In Thy presence is fulness of life. I need Thy presence every passing hour; What but Thy grace can fill the emptiness of my heart; Who like Thyself my guide and stay

Through cloud and sunshine, oh, abide me. Thou remember the old story of how Michael Angelo was ever on his forehead, fastened in his artist's cap, a lighted candle, which always shone brightly on his work, and kept his shadow from falling on it. If I could always have such the light of Christ's face presence over me, I would always have my path, keeping the shadow of self behind and out of sight, ah, what an easy climb it would be then—in the mist.

Relief Of "Lustania"

A bottle covered with a label and sealed, containing a paper on which was written in English, "Lustania torpedoes; will sink within ten minutes." "We walked on the shore of Langesness Island, off North Finmark, it was learned here recently. Those who examined the bottle are convinced of its genuineness. It has been forwarded to the Cunard Line office in London, England.

Thought Converted Into Electric Energy

Invention Of German Professor Something Entirely New

A machine which is said to register thought by curves has been invented by Professor Hans Berger, of the University of Jena, Germany. The invention converts thought into electric energy, which is registered on a chart. The "thought chart" looks like a weather or earthquake chart. Deep thinking shows violent up and down, shallow thinking merely a zig-zag line. So far, nobody has been able to read the thoughts themselves, and further research will be made to discover whether an interpretation of the curve is possible.

British picture shows are visited by something like 30,000,000 people every week.

The pleasure made are probably mad because they find no pleasure.

"Always, Nick, or I wouldn't have said you, of course, I remember just how I felt. I watched you start, and the tears were so near that to stop them I stopped down and began fussing with those jingles. And then— you came! Oh, I was so afraid you'd see I had the strangest emotions. I was happy and frightened all in a breath—terribly happy because you'd come, even to say good-bye; and frightened because I feared my heart was in my eyes. I was almost relieved when at last you turned away, though if you hadn't looked back—if you hadn't come back, Nick, I think I should have died."

"Why, my dear, precious little Gay?" Nick's voice was husky. "I never guessed. Aren't all women the very limit? Think of your springing that on me after four whole years! And I was too much of a dunce to even know that you were the one girl in the world—for me. Well, you'll have to admit that it didn't take me long to find it out!"

She looked up at him almost shyly.

"Nick—do you still feel that way about me?"

He laughed, and kissed her. "I wouldn't change a hair of your head, my dear."

"Really, Nick?"

Her voice sounded so sober that he said: "Why should you ask? Haven't I been a model husband? Come, Gay, let's not get serious. Let's forget every trouble we ever had, and be kids again. If we start now here at home, it will be half an hour to the Bird's Nest, and get back in time to kiss the boys good-night."

It was two weeks after this, one Friday evening when Gay and Simon were sitting together on the porch, that they were interrupted by a call to the telephone.

"It's a long distance for Mrs. Hall-

BABY ILLS and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea. How would you meet this emergency—toughen up a bottle of Castoria ready?

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; it is an everyday aid. ## BRITISH FILM GOULD IS FORMED IN CANADA

Toronto, Ont.—Announcement was made recently of the organization of the British Film Guild in Canada, an independent organization of Canadian theatregoers, interested in seeing British and Canadian pictures in Canadian theatres. The Guild has as its initial membership of 150 people and is now conducting a mail poll for the election of officers.

Believing the vagueness surrounding specific activities of British studios, the personalities of stars and directors, what British films are currently available for Canadian showings and how they appeal to Canadian tastes, to be one of the handicaps to British films progress in Canada, the Guild hopes to act as a clearing house for information, the announcement said.

Its appointees will preview incoming British films and send frank comments to the membership at large.

Members as a whole will report on British films they see and a summarized synopsis of Canada that opinion will be sent to the British producer for his information as an indication of Canadian film tastes.

Statistics on British films will be compiled with a notation of where they were shown, audience reaction and degree of box office success in each case. Co-operation of British producers in such things as arranging previews has, it stated, been obtained.

Decision On Freight Rates Re-Affirmed

Railway Board Explains Method Of Computing Reduction In Maritime

Ottawa, Ont.—A confirmation of their former decision as to the correct method of computing how the 20 per cent. cut in maritime freight rates should be arrived at is contained in a judgment of the board of railway commissioners, delivered here.

The judgment decrees that on west-bound freight traffic the point of whose origin lies within the "select region" the reduction shall be calculated on the ratio which the distance between that point of origin and the westward limit of the "select area," Diamond Junction, bears to the whole distance from the point of origin to the ultimate destination.

That is to say, a commodity transported, for example, from Moncton, N.B., to Calgary, Alta., enjoys the 20 per cent. freight reduction not on the entire Moncton-Calgary rate but on that proportion of the Moncton-Calgary rate which that commodity bears on the distance between Moncton and Diamond Junction, or Lewis, Que.

Talks To Buenos Aires

Prince Of Wales Telephones Across 6,500 Miles From London To Argentina

LONDON.—The Prince of Wales picked up his telephone in York House and sent his voice across 6,500 miles to Buenos Aires, talking for seven minutes with Sir Herbert Gibson, chairman of the British trade exhibition, which the Prince will open in the Argentine capital March 14.

So clear was the transmission that friends sitting near the Prince could hear what Sir Herbert said. First he read a message of welcome to the heir and then there was an informal chat.

To Improve Potato Crop

Winnipeg, Man.—Potato growers of Manitoba were urged to use certified seed and to strive to produce high-grade crops, by John Tucker, chief potato inspector of the Dominion, who addressed the board of trade's agricultural bureau recently. ## Courage Needed Says Federal Woman Member

Mrs. MacPhail Thinks Representatives In House Should Follow Their Conscience

Brantford, Ont.—"You can take your conscience into the House of Commons, but to keep it there—oh, boy!" commented Agnes MacPhail, M.P., in an address here, after reviewing the attitude of the members toward a woman colleague.

Mrs. MacPhail declared that there was great need today in parliament for members to follow their own consciences, and courage to stand for what was right, irrespective of party or the big interests. The House, she said, "badly needed" Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. Charles Dunning, two men of courage.

She declared that property could not be secured by injecting life into the industrial sector with a hypodermic needle, but was dependent on the property of all.

British Shipyards Busy

Built Over Third Of World Construction During Last Quarter Year

London, England.—Well over one-third of the total shipbuilding under construction in the world in the quarter-year ended December 31, was in British shipyards, according to Lloyd's quarterly statistics. The exact percentage was 39.1 out of a total of 2,826,086 tons. The only other country to surpass it was the comparatively small tonnage building in Russia, which does not supply statistics.

The number of ships being built in Great Britain in the period was 181 with a total tonnage of 908,862 tons. This was a decrease of 207,844 tons from the previous quarter, and 651,252 tons less than in the same period of 1929.

Of the foreign tonnage under construction, 232,030 was recorded in the United States, 281,215 in Germany, 179,077 in Italy, 174,015 in France, and 160,078 in Holland.

January 27 Date Decided On At Cabinet Meeting

Winnipeg, Man.—Manitoba's legislature will open Tuesday, January 27, Premier John Bracken has announced. The opening ceremony on this date was reached at a cabinet meeting.

Expect Improvement In Fishing Industry

Comprehensive Survey Being Carried Out By Fisheries Department

Halifax, N.S.—A marked improvement and more stable conditions in the Canadian fishing industry are expected in the reasonably near future by Hon. K. N. Rhodes, minister of fisheries.

Speaking of the survey of the industry being carried out by the department, Hon. Mr. Rhodes said it was of such a comprehensive character that it could not be completed before next August. A study of market conditions at different seasons of the year was one of the factors involved.

Question Of Gold Payments

Paris, France.—The answer of the French Government to the last British note relating to the payment in gold of the French war loan, which was remitted soon, will constitute a refusal to submit the differences to the exceptional procedure of arbitration, when normally competent jurisdiction has not been invoked. It was reported recently.

Racer Buys For States

Southampton, England.—Capt. Malcolm Campbell, British automobile racer, called on the "Homesite" for New York with his racing car, the Bluebird. If arrangements for his speed trials at Daytona Beach, Fla., at present somewhat confused, are not settled, he said he is ready to go on to New Zealand.

Advocates Fruit Growing

Manitoba Farmer Says More Money In Fruit Than In Grain

Winnipeg, Man.—A pioneer fruit grower of the prairies told delegates to the annual convention of the Manitoba Horticultural Association recently, that fruit growing should be regarded as a profitable field by farmers.

His four acres of crab apples, plum and hybrid cherry trees netted him a greater profit last year, William Shepherd, Rathwell, Man., said, than 300 acres of grain would have. Mr. Shepherd considered fruit farming had a bright future in Manitoba.

HUGE TELEGRAPH MERGER MAY BE ARRANGED

Montreal.—Amalgamation of a $50,000,000 corporation of the respective commercial telegraph systems of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railway is being considered by the two companies. The Canadian Press understands the proposal has also been put before the Dominion Government, at Ottawa. This is the much larger idea behind the statement in Ottawa of Sir Basil Blackett, chairman of Imperial and International Communications Limited, "that the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National shall become one company with the I.C.R. as the Canadian owners' communication company, which shall include the Canadian Marconi Corporation."

The suggested amalgamation presents obvious advantages and no less obvious disadvantages. Economically, there would be the saving of the present duplication from coast to coast in equipment and personnel, but even more important would be the advantages of a strong, all-Canadian corporation, able to meet competition and hold its own against all comers.

For neither of the two Canadian commercial telegraph companies is really independent, because each is necessarily allied and more or less dependent on the other, and the rival United States communication groups, the Western Union and the Postal, which again results in the bulk of overseas going through foreign rather than British channels.

This strong corporation would operate at a much lower cost and therefore at lower rates to the permanent advantage of the Canadian public. At the present time, eight commercial telegraph zones are strung across the Canadian continent, and a message to pass from one to another and beyond, means an increasingly higher rate, constituting a heavy toll on the economic life of the country. It is probable that such an amalgamation would permit of the cutting down of these eight zones to only three: Eastern zone, from Cape Breton to the Head of the Lakes; Central zone, Head of the Lakes to Regina; Western zone, Regina to Victoria in the Pacific.

Such a commercial telegraph traffic would have to bump over only two coast summits as from coast to coast, instead of over seven, while the great area of Eastern Canada would enjoy a flat rate.

Wheat Exports Increased

Canada Exports More Wheat During Past Nine Months Than During Same Period Previous Year

Ottawa, Ont.—At the three-quarter mark in the present fiscal year Canada had exported considerably more wheat than during the corresponding period last year, but the amount realized from the business was appreciably lower. Figures issued through the department of national revenue show that the Dominion exported 184,442,000 bushels of wheat during the nine months just closed, for the sum of $157,750,170 was realized. In the corresponding nine months of 1929-30 the total quantity exported was 155,687,017 bushels, valued at $147,722,619.

Both exports of domestic commodities and imports into Canada suffered a big decline in the nine months just ended. Total imports during the nine months just ended were $725,991,813, as compared with $669,645,518 in the corresponding period of 1929-30. Total exports of Canadian produce during the past nine months were to the value of $1,000,000,000, as against domestic exports during the nine-month period of last year, which totalled $890,465,841.

EARTHQUAKE CAUSES HAVOC IN MEXICAN CITY

Mexico City.—Soldiers were turning over the wreckage of the thriving city of Oaxaca, carrying out the bodies of men and women who perished in the earthquake which rocked the city last night.

At least 12 persons perished and many more were injured. Telegraphic communication with the city was cut. Mail messages irregular. The city itself, fragmentary messages indicated, was in ruins and panic-stricken people slept in the open, despite intense cold, because they were afraid to go back to such homes as were left standing.

The only clear picture of the disaster came out of the ruined city in a message from President Emilio Portes Arrarte, President of the state of Oaxaca.

It was he who said that at least 25 persons had been killed or injured. Another message to the department of communications said that 12 had been killed, but this could not be verified immediately.

"It is impossible to describe the damage caused by the earthquake," said the President. "The loss is incalculable. At least 25 persons have been killed or injured and we are still discovering bodies of the dead."

The general's home was destroyed and he was living in his automobile, he said. The city was in ruins and a column of cavalry was one of those killed. The police were helping the soldiers to search the ruins for additional victims.

Epitaph of the quake, which struck Oaxaca on a place of a few minutes, and one person was killed and three injured. The damage was considerable property damage.
